

World Language Press

Ralph C. Mahar Regional School
January, 2004

HOW GRACEFUL SHE IS

By Becky Everett

Grace Keiro is one of the many foreign exchange students at Mahar. This outgoing, friendly junior from Nairobi, Kenya is just like any other teenage girl who loves drama and loves to shop. Read on to find more.

Grace Keiro, from Kenya, lives in New Salem with Amy Fagin and Wayne Hachey.

Do you have any nicknames?

“Well one, my mom has been calling me Krashie ever since I was really young.” Her mother had gotten the nickname from a friend named Grace she had befriended in high school and who they called ‘Krashi’.”

Do you have any pets?

“Yes a dog named Rafiki” (“friend” in Swahili.).

Are you having problems adjusting to American food? What are your likes and dislikes? What's your favorite food from home?

“Yes, I don’t like it. We eat lots of rice at home, here there is more junk. But I love vanilla ice cream. My favorite home dish is Swahili rice called, ‘pilau’.”

What are your hobbies? Here and back home?

“I’m in the drama club and I like to read. Sometimes I’ll audition and get large roles and they take a lot of work to remember all the lines. I don’t like being in the spotlight that much. I love Stephen King and my favorite books are The Black House and the book, I.T. I loved playing field hockey here this year. We

(Continued on page 7)

INSIDE THIS ISSUE:

Kenya’s Greatest Runner 2

A Day in Nairobi Kenya Quiz 3

Hakuna Matata 4

Mystery Teacher Kenya Trivia 5

Kenya Background Safari Basics 6

Puzzle 8

Language Department
Piñata Contest winners.

